Work Crew Escapees

PUTNAM COUNTY, TN –September 07, 2017, Two Putnam County inmates have escaped from a road work crew. Jordan Bradley Langford, 23, of Sparta, TN and Michael Wayne Flanigan Jr., 21, of Cookeville, TN were last seen north of Cookeville near Gainesboro Grade and Chester King Road. Authorities believe the two men were picked up by a vehicle and are no longer in the area.

Langford was previously charged with a violation of probation. Flanigan was charged with two counts of violation of probation, criminal impersonation, assault, general sessions capias, and driving on a revoked license. They are not considered to be armed or dangerous at this time. Jordan Langford is described as a 5' 10" white male around 200 lbs. with short brown hair, green eyes, and several tattoos on his arms. Michael Flanigan Jr. is described as a 5'9" white male around 155 lbs. with medium length brown hair, brown eyes, and several tattoos on his arms too. Escape warrants have been issued for both men, and their bonds are set at $20,000 per person. Both Flanigan and Langford had earned enough good behavior points to be selected for one of the work crew programs; however, both have chosen to break not only the rules but laws. Therefore additional warrants and new charges have been filed.

Anyone with information regarding the whereabouts of Langford or Flanigan should call the Putnam County Sheriff's Office at (931) 528-8484 or local law enforcement.
